Nabo Fixed Income Fund (KES) March 2024

Portfolio Distribution

- Cash and Cash Equivalents
- Corporate Bonds
- Government Bonds

Commentary

The FIF remained consistent with a return of 14.3% in March as we invested in less volatile instruments including high yielding deposits and short-term bonds.

The fund is expected to experience upward momentum on yields on the back of the high interest rate environment as result of the high pressures.

We note rates have gone up on the 2 key asset classes; cash & equivalents and government bonds, and the fund is appropriately and strategically positioned to take advantage in the near to medium term translating to higher and stable returns.

Risks

- 1) Changes in interest rates and differences in taxation policies for different securities can raise or lower return.
- 2) Some securities may cause volatility in return with potential constraints on liquidity.

N/A: The portfolio management team is cognizant of these risks and looks to minimize impact of risk exposures on the portfolio where such may arise.

Disclaimer

Investment return of an investment may fluctuate, and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. The portfolio allocation and holdings are subject to change and should not be considered recommendations to purchase or sell a particular security.
